Neolynx recognized for prestigious web design award

Neolynx Wins at the Annual Web Excellence Awards Competition

Geneva, Switzerland – January 10, 2022 - The Web Excellence Awards, a leading international interactive web awards competition, has announced the 5th Web Excellence Awards winners to highlight this year's "best of the best" in web design and development.

Neolynx was recognized for their excellence with the excellence award for the Website – Health Care Services for Soroudi Advanced LASIK & Eye Centers.

When asked to comment on this win, Neolynx president and founder, Armen Mardirousi responds, “at Neolynx, we have always operated by one simple principle... to succeed by helping our clients succeed.”

The annual international competition saw over 900 entries worldwide, including 45 US States and 30 countries including Australia, Canada, France, UK, Germany, Italy, Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey, etc.

An international panel of industry professionals with diverse backgrounds evaluated categories ranging from online advertising to mobile applications. The 2022 winning entries showcase the industry's best interactive media solutions, including websites, mobile applications, print media, interactive displays, online advertising, video, email and more.

The Web Excellence Awards primarily aims to acknowledge and promote creative ideas, business models and innovative technologies on the web. The winners of the excellence awards are chosen from six categories, including website building, advertising & marketing, video and podcasts, apps and mobile, social media and painting. Each category then further includes themes ranging from activism and health to beauty, fitness, sports, travel, etc. These winners, through their work and innovative approach, inspire millions to think out of the box. Due to the constantly evolving nature of digital media and the emergence of distinguished artists, the task of choosing the winners of the 5th Web Excellence Awards have not only been challenging but also astounding.
